NASS VALLEY GATEWAY ANNOUNCES ITS NEW STAKING OF MINERAL CLAIMS

Nass Valley Gateway Ltd. is pleased to announce that it has staked new mineral claims along the east shore of Observatory Inlet in Northeastern British Columbia. The new claims adjoin the western boundary of the Nisga'a lands, where the Company is presently engaged in evaluating the potential for developing construction aggregate quarry operations in granitoids of the Coast Plutonic Complex at the Nass Bay project. The new claims provide the Company with a larger potential resource, as well as additional possible sites for deep water shipping facilities. The Company will be formulating exploration plans for the new claims once geological analysis and materials testing related to the recently-completed diamond drilling at Nass Bay are completed.
